Intellectual Property

We represent clients concerning the full range of intellectual property (IP) rights, including matters concerning:

- Trademarks
- Copyrights
- Patents
- Trade secrets
- Unfair competition
- Restrictive covenants
- Computer law
- Internet law
- Privacy
- Idea submissions
- Licensing arrangements
- Ownership of rights

Our IP clients include companies that use intellectual property rights in their own businesses or that navigate the rights of others. We also represent authors, publishers, performers, producers, entertainers, athletes, programmers, and designers in the protection of their original works.

We have litigated a wide variety of intellectual property cases, ranging from large-scale, international patent infringement suits to individual restrictive covenant defense or prosecution. These matters have involved copyright infringement and ownership, trademark infringement, website ownership, trade secret protection, nondisclosure agreement enforcement, and dozens of other scenarios.

Our lawyers have a thorough knowledge of the applicable laws affecting intellectual property rights, and an in-depth understanding of many of the technologies that are used to create, publish, program, and distribute IP works.

Results

- Trademarks
- Copyrights
- Patents
- Trade secrets
- Unfair competition
- Restrictive covenants
- Computer law
- Internet law
- Privacy
- Idea submissions
- Licensing arrangements
- Ownership of rights

Attorneys

- John K. Crossman
- Kevin C. Taylor

- Vyasa M. Murthy